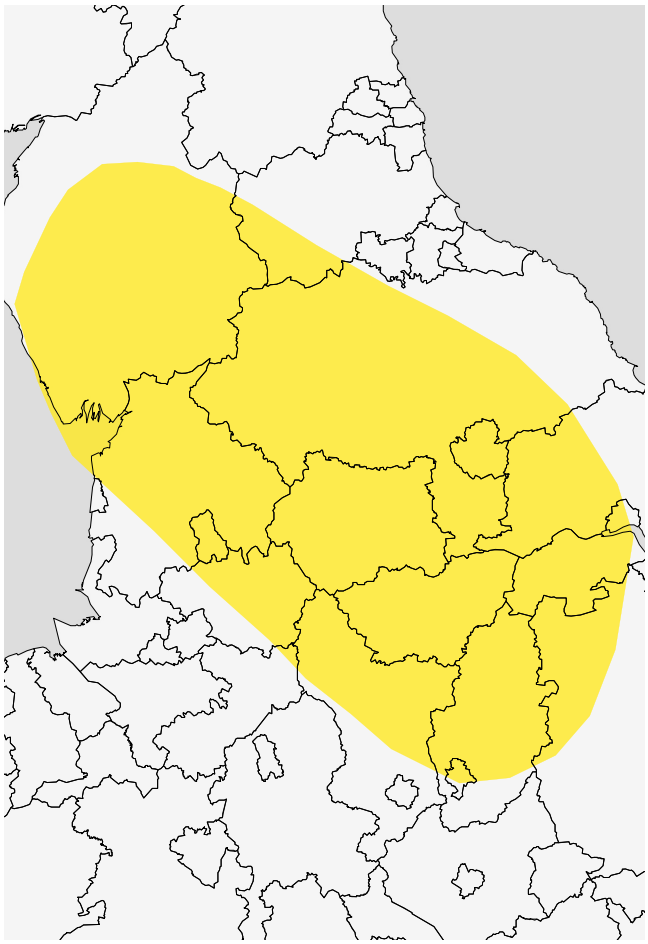
Yellow warning
Thunderstorm

Between
11:00 Tue 18 Jun 2024 and
21:00 Tue 18 Jun 2024



Heavy showers and thunderstorms may lead to some disruption to travel.

What to expect

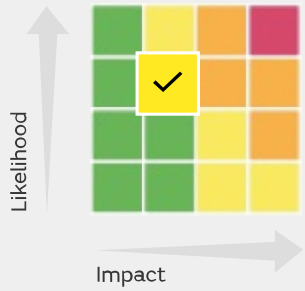
- There is a good chance driving conditions will be affected by spray, standing water and/or hail, leading to longer journey times by car and bus
- Delays to train services are possible
- Possibly some damage to a few buildings and structures from lightning strikes
- Some flooding of a few homes and businesses possible, leading to some damage to buildings or structures
- Some short term loss of power and other services is possible

Further details

Showers developing later on Tuesday morning, becoming heavy with some thunderstorms through the afternoon and early evening. Some of these will be slow-moving with lightning, hail and also heavy rain and a few places seeing 20-30 mm of rain in one hour.

What should I do?
Give yourself the best chance of avoiding delays by checking road conditions if driving, or bus and train timetables, amending your travel plans if necessary.

Consider if your location is at risk of flash flooding.



✓ Medium likelihood of low impacts

If so, consider preparing a flood plan and an emergency flood kit.

People cope better with power cuts when they have prepared for them in advance. It's easy to do; consider gathering torches and batteries, a mobile phone power pack and other essential items.

If you find yourself outside and hear thunder, protect yourself by finding a safe enclosed shelter (such as a car). Do not shelter under or near trees, or other structures which may be struck by lightning. If you are on an elevated area move to lower ground.

Be prepared for weather warnings to change quickly: when a weather warning is issued, the Met Office recommends staying up to date with the weather forecast in your area.
